

Clifton Robinsons Hockey Club – 1st team Assistant Coach (ladies)

Clifton Robinsons Hockey Club, based in Bristol, is recruiting an aspiring coach to work as part of our coaching team under the support and direction of our Women's Head Coach to assist with the delivery and implementation of our senior women's programme.

Our squad includes senior, junior and ex-international players alongside a very committed and talented squad, hungry to keep improving at the top of our domestic game; we play in the Investec Women's Premier Division.

You will be responsible for assisting the continued development of all aspects of our technical and performance delivery.

You will have a relevant hockey qualification, or working towards it, together with a current DBS disclosure and First Aid certificate.

You could also have knowledge and experience of:

- strategies and tactics to deliver results
- coaching science and practice
- athlete preparation
- video analysis

Above all, we are looking for an ambitious coach eager to embrace a learning environment and develop his or her own coaching capability. To support that you will have a high degree of motivation and your abilities will include:

- Coaching, developing, motivating and empowering others, working collaboratively within a team as well as autonomously, challenging and encouraging everyone to achieve higher performances
- Effective communication to engage, consult, liaise and influence, colleagues and athletes
- Creating innovative coaching environments for performance outcomes
- An understanding of appropriate professional relationships with athletes and staff
